When the Grangers met at Washington last Fall, they demanded, among other things, that Congress create a new cabinet officer, to be at the head of the Agricultural department. In obedience to this command, a bill to effect that end was presented this week, and on a suspension of the rules, it came within one vote of passing the House by the necessary two-thirds majority. A Washington dispatch says: If any proceeding in the House of Representatives heretofore has failed to show that the average Congressman is an ass, the vote on this question made up for it. Those who voted for the bill did so merely to hoodwink the honest farmers. They knew that the bill had no show at all in the Senate, and two-thirds of those who voted for it were not at heart friendly to the measure. They voted as they did to create the impression among the horny-handed sons of toil that their interests are cherished, when as a matter of fact, Congress has no use for the farmer except in an individual capacity to rope in his vote. If a Department of Agriculture were established on a footing with the other departments, it would at once become a political machine, and the farmer could not fare nearly so well as he does under the present administration.

The two Houses of Congress, on Wednesday, elected Gen. James A. Garfield, President and Chester A. Arthur, Vice-President of the United States for the ensuing four years. The Electoral vote, including Georgia, stood as follows: Garfield, 214; Gen. Hancock, 155. Not counting Georgia it is: Garfield, 214; Hancock, 144. After the count was made the figurehead, Wheeler, declared the result, and after a short shout of joy on the part of the Republicans, all was over. There is no blot on the title of our next President, which is some consolation to the people of a free country.

Last week we credited the senior editor of the Richmond Herald with an article he did not write, and we hereby ask his pardon for what we said in reply to it. As to the other little "red-headed case," we will not give him the advertising he so much craves, but will lay him across our lap, face down-ward, the first time we see him, and administer to him that castigation so necessary to keep ill-mannered youngsters in their places.

There are bills before the Legislature in several States, to make wife-beating punishable with thirty-nine lashes well laid on the back of the brute who is found guilty. The bills are good and we hope they may become laws, but we would suggest a similar law for husband-beaters. A poor little weekly man with a great big wife, stands but a slim chance, and we know how to sympathize with such fellows.

There was manufactured in the United States last year 13,374,000 barrels of beer, an amount sufficient to give 600 glasses to every adult in the land. The New York Sun says that beer-drinking is the only wise and practical step towards temperance, and as such, ought to be hailed with delight by all who oppose whisky drinking.

It now appears extremely likely that Stanley Matthews' nomination for Judge of the Supreme Court will be pigeon-holed by the Judiciary Committee. It is said that if left to the Senate, he would be confirmed. Henry Watterson, his nephew, is on hand, and doing all in his power with his Democratic brethren.

Blackburn, of Kentucky, and Frye, of Maine, had a spat in the House the other day, in which the former dared the latter to say that he lied. Some hot words passed, but like little children, they got over it quickly, and in a few moments were shaking hands, after which they went out and took a drink.

The New York Truth is endeavoring to prove that Chester A. Arthur is not eligible to the office of Vice-President, because he was born in Canada. We hope that it will be able to do so, as it will be a disgrace for a man with his countenance to occupy the second place in the Republic.

The negroes who exodusted to Kansas a year or two ago, are dying off at a rapid rate. The sunny South is the only place where these unfortunate people can thrive to any considerable extent, and they had better stay there and pick cotton.

H. Victor Newcomb, one of the heaviest stockholders in the new New York Bank, has started business with a capital of four millions, with privilege of increasing it to seven millions. Logan Murray, late of a Louisville Bank, is to be Cashier.

MURPHY, of the Danville Tribune, prints on his first page a very fine likeness of his father. We dislike, however, this way some people have of always ringing in their kinsfolk.

The Meade County Record puts it nicely when it says that Buford was temperately insane.

The extension of the Chesapeake & Ohio R. R. from Richmond to Newport News, a distance of sixty-five miles has been let to Mason, Shannahan & Hoge, and McMahon & Green, the well-known contractors. They have agreed to commence work at once and push it to completion by July 1st, the time stipulated. With the Big Sandy R. R. completed, and with a seacoast terminus, the C. & O. will shortly assume the importance its location deserves. In less than a year our farmers and traders will be able to send their produce and stock by the shortest, quickest and cheapest route that can be made to the principal markets of the world. Surely, the world moves.

CINCINNATI bunco men are growing bolder and bolder. Not content with skinning the greens in that city, they go out as far as Paris, Ky., play the same old game, and get off before the victim can get his wits together. Abe Barton, a farmer in Bourbon, was lured to the sum of $275 this week, all because he did not take the Paris True Knuckler and learn the ways of those smooth-tongued scamps.

On this principle that a poor man ought not to hang for killing a negro, when a rich man is sent to the lunatic asylum for the cold-blooded murder of a Supreme Judge, the people of Shelby county are petitioning the Governor to commute Vonderheide's sentence to imprisonment for life. So there is a fighting chance yet for the miserable scamp to escape the gallows and then get out of the Penitentiary.

The initial number of the Central Courier, published at Nicholasville by Mr. Samuel Owen, has reached us. It is a neatly printed, 28 column paper. It contains more news to the square inch than any first issue we ever saw. Mr. Owen is an old newspaper man, knows the trials before him, and will, therefore, be better able to meet them. We wish him great success.

COL. W. C. P. BRECKINRIDGE is likely to be a candidate for the Legislature from Fayette county. We hope he will, and also that he will be elected. There has been too many ordinary horses sent to make laws of late years, and it is about time the best were coming to the front. The idea that any kind of a jack is good enough for the Legislature, ought to be dispelled at once.

MEADE COUNTY is in a hurry to get out candidates for the Senate and Legislature, the Democratic Committee having already issued a call for a primary election on the 20th of this month. The corpse should not be hurried. "Many Voters" are not yet done calling for their favorites, and this haste is taking money right out of the pocket of the Enterprise man.

Those so-called Democrats and alleged bribe-takers, Davis and Plumb, of the Tennessee Legislature, are about to have it proven on them that they did get $250 each for their votes in the election of the Secretary of State. A committee is now investigating the matter, and if no whitewash is used, some ugly facts will be developed.

The Legislature of Pennsylvania has been balloting for several weeks but have been unable to elect a U. S. Senator. Oliver, the machine candidate, has withdrawn and it is now thought that Gen. Beaver is the coming man.

STANLEY MATTHEWS is the only one of the conspirators of the fraud of 1876, that has not received his reward. Hayes wants to pay him but thanks to a sensible Judiciary Committee he will not be confirmed Supreme Judge.

WE GET the Louisville Post very irregularly. We have only one copy this week, that of Tuesday. Brother O'Sullivan, please give your mailing clerk special orders about our paper.

The Louisville Board of Trade is forning the passage of a general bankrupt law at present. So are all honest men.

IT IS SAID that Tom Turner will be a candidate for the U. S. Senate. "Great God!" said the woodcock, and away he flew.

NOTES OF CURRENT EVENTS.

A bill to make the President's inauguration day a legal holiday, is before the House.

New York last year expended $7,000,000 for amusements and $60,000,000 in intoxicating drinks.

Sara Bernhardt leaves Cincinnati for New Orleans with $16,000.50 as the result of five performances.

The Mississippi River has cost the general government, since its foundation, over $7,500,000, aside from the jetties.

One hundred and six men are on the pay-roll of the Collector of Internal Revenue for the Lexington District, and the number is daily increasing.

William H. Vanderbilt has paid the entire cost of transporting the chelish, pedestal and steps from Alexandria, and erecting them in Central Park.

New Orleans suffered a severe wind and rain storm, this week, which broke the cabankuents on the river, inundating a considerable portion of the city.

During the year 1880 the Cincinnati Enquirer paid over $15,000 postage, a sum considerably greater than that paid by both the Commercial and Gazette.

The Pennsylvania road has made another reduction in its freight rates. Reducting rates, the fare from New York to Chicago is now $3; Cleveland, $2; St. Louis, $2; Fort Wayne and Detroit, $2; Louisville, $4; Toledo and Columbus, $2.50.

Senators Thurman and Hamlin acted as Tellers on the part of the Senate in counting the Electoral vote, and Mr. Howe and Crowley on the part of the House.

If our good Governor can establish the fact that cholera is produced by drinking water, he will relieve Kentucky of all apprehension of an epidemic. (Sam Claes.)

The steamer Bohemian, plying from Boston to Liverpool was lost a few days ago, with a cargo valued at $237,675. Thirty-nine of the passengers found watery graves.

In round numbers the gross earnings of American railroads for 1880, were $600,000,000. Half of that amount was expended in constructing and equipping 6,000 miles of road.

All the old piers of the Lake Shore depot at Buffalo, about 400 feet, fell in while a Lake Shore train was in the building. Two persons are known to be killed. No passengers were killed.

The Senate passed a bill appropriating $175,000 to send a vessel in search of Mr. Bennett's exploring expedition. Mr. Pendleton's bill giving Cabinet officers seats in Congress was favorably reported.

Thomas H. Dawson sent Charles E. Smith, editor of the Philadelphia Press, for publishing that at a Democratic parade Dawson exhibited a Rebel flag. The jury found for Smith, Dawson to pay costs.

The last rail of the extension of the Southern Railroad from Bayre to Chattanooga was laid Monday. Once more the road is finished. It will be finished again in a few days by the running of the first train "through from Cincinnati to Chattanooga."

A combination has been formed in New York for the purpose of helping National banks to replace their bonds on deposit in the Treasury with the new loan, and Western banks prefer to deal directly with the Treasury.

With four coal roads running into Lexington, Kentucky, coal has been higher here this winter than when it was hauled by wagons from the Kentucky River. It is no wonder, therefore, that people of the central portions of the State favor Congressional and State legislation of railroads.

Pensacola, Fla., which recently suffered a $100,000 fire, was damaged again Sunday to the amount of $20,000. If those who were burned out, were insured and can build again, any specimen of architecture would beat the old and rickety establishments that have been reduced to ashes.

George Pieratt, an aged and infirm bachelor, living about five miles from Lexington, Ky., while replenishing the fire before retiring, Friday night, fell into the fire-place and was burned to death, before his sister, who was confined to her bed with paralysis, could render any assistance.

The Secretary of War shows that there are organized and unorganized in the U. S. 6,393,595 militiamen. Of this number Kentucky has 255,000; Arkansas, 100,000; Texas, 150,000; Tennessee, 130,504; Mississippi, 145,378; Georgia, 130,000; Alabama, 170,000; Louisiana, 128,151; Indiana, 320,545; and Illinois, 550,000.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals has decided that jurors impeached to hold inquests on idiots and lunatics are not entitled to allowances, and that in no instance are bystanders who are put on juries so entitled. The opinion was delivered in the case of Roberts vs. Godshaw, Trustee of the Jury Fund of Jefferson county.

Gen. Grant presided at a meeting in New York, Saturday, in the interest of the World's Fair in 1883. Addresses were made by a number of gentlemen. $322,000 has been collected for the enterprise within the past six days. Three gentlemen present contributed $5,000 each. Railroads are expected to give $1,000,000.

The new Board of Directors of the Kentucky Central Railroad, at a meeting held in Cincinnati, Tuesday, appointed an engineer in charge of the extension necessary to connect with the Knoxville road, and directed the President to advertise for proposals to build the sixty-one miles of road necessary to make the connection.

The New York Sun says that during 1880 it consumed four million sixty-two thousand five hundred and ninety-two (4,602,592) pounds of printing paper in its daily, Sunday and weekly editions. This is equal to sixty million four hundred and forty-five thousand and thirty-nine (60,445,039) copies of the daily size.

Georgia pays her judicial officers a beggarly salary, says the Columbus Enquirer-Sun. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court gets only $3,000 and the court is not allowed a stenographer. The Judges of the Superior Courts get $2,000. To make the rounds in Chattahoochee circuit requires at least $600 annually, leaving only $1,400 as a salary on which to live.

The large pork-house of J. C. Ferguson & Co., of Indianapolis, Ind., was entirely destroyed by fire yesterday evening. Loss of stock, $377,000. Insured $225,000. The building was valued at $135,000, and was insured for $60,000. The origin of the fire is unknown. The insurance papers are in the safe, so the reporter can not ascertain the names of the companies interested.

The New York police arrested last year 71,099 persons, 47,798 of whom were held, while 23,899 were discharged. Crimes of violence are on the increase. In 1880 they numbered 5,790. New York City prisons opened their doors last year to 36,255 persons of intemperance habits. The police stations furnished lodging to 190,681 men and women who had nowhere else to sleep.

Williamsport, Pa., Friday witnessed the hanging of a man and a woman for murdering the woman's husband. After the husband had been killed the paragon hung the body in the barn and was rewarded by the widow with a kiss. They died without a struggle, and, of course, went straight to heaven, as all murderers do, except in Kentucky, where they go to the lunatic asylum. (C. J.)

The death of Carlyle, the John Knox of letters, in his eighty-sixth year, makes genuine distress in thoughtful circles. The great old man, living nearly a century, and working to the last, has laid more hobgoblins by the heels, and lifted up more neglected heroes than any man of our century.

In the death of Carlyle and George Eliot, within a month of each other, British literature has been literally knocked off its pins.

Senator Williams has presented a petition signed by 424 citizens of Frankfort, asking for an appropriation of $100,000 for the purpose of erecting a public building at Frankfort. The petition says that Kentucky is ninety years old as a State, and is the only State that has not a Federal building at its Capital. The petitioners allege that the proposition to divide the State into two judicial districts will not be necessary if a suitable building is erected at Frankfort, where, then, all the business could be transacted with ease.

The Baltimore Sun, after a careful revision of the reviews, among those present from Lancaster were the following: Miss Ada Marry, Nellie Duncan, Kate Wherritt, Alice Dunn, Mamie Olds and the Misses Noel; also Misses Mee and Ann Walker, Callie Higgins, Jennie Sweeney and Eliza West. Among the gentlemen were the following: Messrs. Jas. Hemphill, Will Marrs, Hugh Logan, Allen Burnside, Luther and Alex. Gibbs, Jno. Leas and Baker Walker. All went away highly delighted—dreaming of the days when they should meet again.

High winds have prevailed for some days. Lodge night, next Saturday. There is some work in the first degree to be done. The law requires the Sheriff or one of his deputies to attend daily at the Court House.

The church people are invited to attend church in a body, if they can spare the time.

Ashley Owen's whisky distillery at Mt. Guthrie is in full blast. James Cook is store-keeper.

Valentines! Valentines!! All sorts of valentines—comic, sentimental and serious—at J. L. Whitehead's.

The Newcomb hotel property in this place will be sold at public auction on the 25th inst., County Court day.

It is said that the contracts on the Knoxville extension from London to the State line will be let in March.

Logan is the favorite game with the ladies here, but encore has yet its relentless way over the minds of the men.

The religious condition of the streets keeps ladies who have not pretty feet indoors. It is noticeable that those who have pretty feet want to be out all the time.

The farmers, of course, swear without being sworn, that the wheat is mined. But the farmers, when not under oath, do not always swear the truth. Did you ever notice that?

The mail agent on the up train last Tuesday had not finished reading the postal cards for this place when he arrived here, and as a consequence, he carried the mail on to Livingston.

Mr. M. D. Hughes was here Monday, seeking encouragement in an effort to establish a lodge of the "Knights of Honor." Unless the movement is suffered to drop, a lodge will be made here.

It is reported that F. L. Thompson has purchased of M. A. Langford one-half of the "stone stable" lot on Main street, and that he will erect a handsome business house thereon in the Spring.

Contractors on the Knoxville extension are advertising for work-hands. A great many able-bodied young men in this county might find employment there if they were at all anxious to do so.

On Thursday Alexander Seord, aged 43 years, married, a citizen of this county, was tried before Judge McCreary on a charge of lunacy. He was found to be a lunatic and ordered to the Lexington Asylum.

A rain began to fall here Monday morning, and continued with slight intermission until Wednesday morning. The snow which fell in November is all gone at last. The thaw threatens to be complete.

It is hoped that Mr. Barnes' sermons may have a softening effect on the youth of this place. The Mt. Vernon small boys will certainly end their careers in a lunatic asylum if they do not reform. Go to hear Mr. Barnes, boys.

James Honk will begin the erection of his grist mill just as soon as the weather will permit. Mr. M. P. Newcomb will move his saw mill from Roundstone, and attach it to the grist mill. This will give a business air to the West End.

"Gee whizz!" said a fair damsel the other evening after returning from Whitehead's store, "mother, give me some more money, so I can go to Mr. Whitehead's and buy eight of those pretty valentines. I want one for each of my sweethearts."

The Baptists have just closed a successful meeting at Brodhead. Ed. Metcalf, of Kentucky University, has been holding a series of meetings in the Christian Church at Brodhead. There will be preaching at this place next Sunday by Elder J. L. Allen.

The county is singularly quiet. There has been no blood shed, no fights and no disturbances (except a little drunkenness) since the beginning of the year. It is hoped that this State of affairs will continue. Where peace abideth there is to be found considerably more of happiness.

Last Saturday night a sneak thief broke into the smoke-house of our clever County Clerk, D. N. Williams, and carried off four pieces of meat—a ham, a side and two shoulders. The scoundrel who perpetrated this most iniquitous outrage should be arrested and sent to a lunatic asylum.

Preparations for the tan bark season are already being made. Country merchants will be shy of making contracts this year. They will prefer to risk the market. Last year contracts were made for $10 and $11, and prime bark was the market commanded from $14 to $16 per cord. This tan bark business interests seriously with the making of crops. It will be of real benefit to this county when the bark is exhausted.

Last Sunday night, shortly after the family had eaten supper, the East room of Mr. D. N. Williams' residence was discovered by one of the little boys to be on fire. The alarm was given and the flames were extinguished; not, however, until considerable damage had been done. The fire originated from falling coals, the grate being heaped with fuel. Had the discovery been made a few minutes later, the building could not have been saved.

Hon. W. H. Randall, of London, will be an applicant for the office of United States Marshal of Kentucky under the new administration. He will be backed by the best element of the Republican party in his application. He is a staunch Republican, a splendid gentleman, and everywhere in the mountains will be pleased with his appointment. There is little doubt of his getting the place. He is well acquainted with General Garfield, having served as a member of Congress with him during two terms. He is also a member of the Christian Church. Besides all this, he will have the influence of the jayhawk, our own Congressman John D. White, to help him. He can't fail, and it's exactly right that he shouldn't fail to obtain the place.

Our County Clerk has issued the following marriage licenses since January 1st: James Mullins to Alevia Jennings, E. P. Kerby to Martha Hanks, Geo. H. Callaway to Fannie Mullins, R. F. Witt to Amanda Burnett, W. L. Kindred to Louisa Burnett, Wm. Chumley to Sarah Owens, W. H. Colyer to Margaret Snodgrass; Harvey Carlton to Cynthia Lovings; Conway Jennings to Mattie Williams; Arch Mayguire to Catherine Bowman; John W. Cunningham to Della Brown; P. G. Ashley to Nannie Crumcher; H. L. Owens to Mary Cottingham; J. M. Dixon to Lucinda Warren; A. J. Long to Margaret Thompson. The list may strike your readers as being rather large for only a month's work, but they must take into consideration the unusual severity of the weather. These unions have been a great saving of such fuels as coal and wood.

The great revivalist, Rev. George O. Barnes, arrived here Tuesday night, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss Marie. They came from McKee, through the chill penetrating rain of that day. The party are registered at the Joplin House, though I am not advised as to whether that will be their permanent quarters while here. It was expected that Mr. Barnes would begin his meeting this morning. It is to be hoped that much good may result from his visit to our people. All those living in the country are earnestly requested to come and participate in a meeting in McKee, with 170 additions or conversions, or whatever appellation he bestows on those who make confession of their faith under his ministrations. His meeting at this place will continue for two weeks. May his labors be abundantly blessed.

Miss Alice Stagner, of Garrard, is the guest of Mrs. Dr. McKee, County Attorney Durham, of Jackson county, who is in town Tuesday night. He came over with Mr. Barnes and family. Dr. J. W. Brown is in Madison this week, looking after the Senatorial race. Rev. Dwight A. Norton, a Hospital Missionary of Chicago, was here last week, visiting his nephew, W. H. Weber. He made many friends among our people. Mr. J. K. McCreary, whose illness has been heretofore chronicled in these columns, is, I regret to say, no better.

Isaac Stuart and W. M. Fish have been absent in Jackson county this week on professional business. Miss Burdette Ray Jones, of Louisville, is a guest of Miss Fannie Williams. Mrs. Heida Brooks has returned to Paris. She was accompanied by Miss Lou Joplin. Judge James G. Carter, of Brodhead, who has been absent for some time in Pendleton county, was at home last week. S. H. and Garrard Thompson, who have been working for J. B. Crooke & Co., Glen Mary, Tenn., are at home on a visit.

The dog business in this town is becoming alarming. No less than fifty good-looking dogs are kept here. They lie under kitchen stores and sleep all day, and howl and bark all night. They are very churlish in their natures, too. They kind of run together, as it were. Mr. W. says that when Mrs. F.'s dog begins to bark at night, his dog begins to bark, also, acting as a sort of echo. A big bull dog from out of the mountains used to come to Mrs. F.'s and snarl at the house, gnawing the scraps from the table. He could easily clean out Mrs. F.'s dog and the latter never bothered him. Finally, the latter called in Mr. W.'s dog, and the two together chewed up the mountain bull dog. He went home rapidly, with his tail tucked close between his hind legs. After that, when the bull dog, driven by hunger, would venture back, Mrs. F.'s dog would give a peculiar yell. Immediately Mr. W.'s dog would come bounding and howling like a devil, let loose, and the mountain dog would go swiftly back to his fastnesses in the hills. This incident made the two dogs a modern Damascus and Pythias. They have been known to share many a bone together. They imitate each other's howls. They have never been found to be of any use except to keep their respective owners' family awake at nights, but they are cared for very tenderly and pointed out as smart dogs. They, along with all the rest, should be abolished.

NASHVILLE, Feb. 7th.—Nashville is a lively place at this time, the Legislature being in session. People from all parts of the State, with axes to grind, are in attendance, and every element of society is here, from the "bleated bond-holder" to the pleasantest. Legislative circles are all torn up over some very grave charges, brought against two honorable members. The charge is selling out to the Republicans in the election of Secretary of State and Comptroller. It is thought it will go pretty hard with the boys. The most important witness has "skipped" out. The Committee has thrown out a drag net to try and get him back. Every man will be made to get to the bottom of the whole thing, and the guilty men had better stand from under.

While at the Capital admiring the beauty of the building, in company with a State official, some comparison was made between the State House of Kentucky and Tennessee, where the official said he once took great pride in the building, but a few years ago there was a present member of the Kentucky Legislature here. He undertook to abuse him about having no better State Capitol. The Kentucky man told him that his State buildings were all paid for. He saw the point. The State House has cost over one million of dollars, all of which I believe is unpaid.

The theatre going public are anticipating a rich treat in the near future. John McCullough, who is said to be the greatest tragic actor on the American stage, commenced an engagement of one week last Monday evening; Billy Arlington's Minstrels play at the Masonic Theatre on the 14th and 15th, and the great Star Play "Camille" on the 17th. Of course I can't attend any of them; I haven't got my ticket. Last Saturday night the police and the British Minstrels had some trouble. The Opera House was well filled—so it is said—to see the performance of Fanny May's Female Minstrels. Some of the first acts had been gone through with, in which some indecent language had been used and the company were proceeding to give the living statues, when notice was served by the police that unless such exhibition was omitted the show would be "pulled." This wound up the entertainment, and some twenty-five or thirty men, who had bought tickets, had a warrant issued, and levied on the baggage of the company for the return of their money.

Mr. Nunnelle, who has been in the grocery business here for a long time, and who is entirely familiar with the wants of this community, purchased these goods himself, and the people are assured that he bought just what will suit them. See their goods before buying, or you will regret it.

PERSONAL.

CAPT. THOMAS EDWARDS has gone to Louisville.

Mrs. B. L. LILLARD, of Lexington, is visiting her relatives here.

R. L. JOURNISON, Esq., a well-known R. R. Contractor, is in town.

Mr. JAMES T. CARR, of Lebanon, is spending a few days with his friends.

Mr. FRANK MATTHEWS, of Hicks, arrived yesterday and is with friends here.

Rev. J. H. HOPKINS, "Brother Jack," the Sunday School man, was in town this week.

Miss LIDA HIGGINS, a well-known young lady of this county, is visiting Miss Pauline McKinney.

Dr. JACKSON GIVENS, who has been attending the Medical College at Baltimore, returned home this week.

Mrs. MAGGIE McROBERTS, of Danville, and Maggie Ebert, of Crab Orchard, are guests of Mr. John McRoberts.

Miss ROSA RICHARDS left yesterday to take charge of a school in Jefferson county. We wish her a pleasant and profitable season.

Mrs. J. S. HOPKINS and L. F. Hobbs are registered, says an Excelsior telegram, at the St. James Hotel, Washington. They are probably on their way back from the New York Law College.

Mrs. WALTON VENABLE, contractor on the L. & N. extension, passed here this week. He says that owing to the severe winter, he has been able to lay but little of the road. He expects to put on a large force, however, at the earliest season.

Capt. J. S. McROBERTS, who has been a division Engineer on the Big Sandy Railroad, left Monday to take charge of the new line at New Richmond, Va., to Newport News. It is believed that line will be made in a short time, probably by the time the Big Sandy is finished. (Mt. Sterling Sentinel.)

THIS WEEK our subscribers are as follows: W. B. Bell, Lawrenceburg; W. M. Dodd, Geo. C. Jenkins, T. L. Carpenter, Hustonville; Michael Cloyd, Richard Bibb, J. M. Carter, Jr., McKimney; H. B. Wallace, Point Dick, Ind.; Dr. S. C. McRoberts, W. O. Sweeney, Lancaster; G. K. Bouch, Horseville; S. C. A. Middleton, Crab Orchard.

LOCAL MATTERS.

It is cheaper to go to Louisville now than to Cincinnati. Fare $3.20.

TWENTY DOLLARS saved by buying your Sewing Machine from Geo. D. Warren.

The Hustonvillians will have the "Big 15" to-morrow night. Everybody should attend.

FOR SALE.—Several new buggies at the lowest prices. Apply to Wm. Daugherty, J. B. Dennis.

NICE lot of Pocket Cutlery, Table Cutlery, Hams, Canned and Collars. Call on B. Mattingly & Son.

LUNATIC.—Thomas Johnson, of this county, was tried for lunacy, Wednesday, and sent to the Asylum at Lexington.

L. A. WILLSON is ready to receive orders of Spring Work. Good stock only used and work guaranteed. Prices always low.

IMPROVEMENTS on the Court Square progress slowly. The trimming of the trees has occupied the attention of the committee this week.

FRESH Oysters received every Wednesday and Saturday by B. Mattingly & Son.

If the person who found a silver earring will leave it at this office, he will be rewarded.

I WANT to buy a farm of fifty or sixty acres, comfortably improved, for which I will pay cash down. T. S. Parsons.

The decision of the Circuit Court was reversed in the case of Hart, vs. Hayden, taken from this county to the Court of Appeals.

A well improved farm of excellent quality, on a pike and convenient to churches and schools, is offered for sale. Apply at this office.

WHY throw away an old pair of boots or shoes when a very small outlay will make them as good as ever. Take them to L. A. Willson. He does all kinds of cobbling.

SHALL POX.—The prevalence of this terrible scourge in numerous cities suggests the importance of vaccination. It is a certain preventive of the disease, and no one should fail to seek its protection. Verbum sat sapienti.

EVERYBODY will be seen a call on our friend, Tim W. Higgins, to become a candidate for the Legislature. He is a very popular man, as his race for the Circuit Clerkship showed, and if he wants the office, which he hardly think he does, he will be a hard horse to beat.

IT IS rumored that THE INTERIOR JOURNAL is to be made defendant in a $10,000 slander suit. We do not hanker after such things, but if they must come, we are all well prepared to fight them, for we never make a statement injurious to any one, unless we think it at least we can prove it.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR.—Supreme Treasurer, R. J. Breckinridge, has issued his report for February, which shows that from December 6 to February 1, there were disbursed $258,255.00, leaving a balance in the Treasury of $67,548.91, from which forty-five $2,000 orders are drawn and issued. The order is in a very flourishing condition.

The suit of Wm. Grimes vs. H. H. Bright for $500, with interest from 1861, on which the plea of non est factum is made, took several of our experts in handwriting to Lancaster this week, among them Messrs. Joe S. Grimes, A. A. Warren, D. B. Edmiston and J. W. McAllister. All of them proved that the note is in the handwriting of Mr. Bright. Case still pending.

SETTLED.—Mr. R. Smith, who was hanged out of a note for $750 sometime ago, in Cincinnati, an account of which we gave afterwards, has accepted the proposition of the racial to take $25 for it, and now has the document in his possession. Mr. Smith is out just $5 by the little game. We hope his lesson will be a warning to others to put no trust in strangers.

PARDONED.—Frank Green, who was sent from this county to the Penitentiary for three years has been pardoned by His Clemency. The old gentleman seems particularly kind to the convicts of this county, for all of which they should thank the INTERIOR JOURNAL. We can have any man in the Penitentiary pardoned by opposing it. That's the kind of a Governor we have.

THE MAILS.—There is terrible disarrangement in our mails of late, that ought to receive the attention of the P. O. Department. For two days there has been no Cincinnati connection with the Southern Road and of a consequence we have not had a paper from that city, Lexington or Danville for three days. The Advocate has not yet arrived and what is worse we have no Danville letter.

VERY FUNNY.—A sermp named Glascock, at Gravel Switch, fled at Harvey Humble, brakemen on the passenger train, a few days ago, the bell correctly missing his head and burying itself in the door of the coach. Glascock says that he just did it for fun, but it is to be hoped that the R. R. Company will make him pay dearly for it. It may be exceedingly funny to shoot at a brakeman, but Humble says it's a kind of joke that he can't relish at all.

SALES OF TOWN PROPERTY.—Mr. T. S. Parsons has sold to Dr. John B. Owsley his house and lot on the Opera Building Block for $2,500, equal to $27.50 per front foot. Dr. Owsley will remove the old building and in its stead erect two handsome brick store-rooms, so soon as the weather opens. The entire block is now owned by men who will make it the most valuable here. Squire J. S. Murphy, executor of J. B. Owsley, sold at auction, Monday, to John Craig, a small house and lot on Lancaster street, for $601.50.

THE ARLINGTON MINISTERS.—Manager R. B. Marsh, of the Lexington Opera House, played the Arlington Ministers here last Friday night to an audience that was most enthusiastic in its praise. The great Billy Arlington is a show in himself and his company is composed of artists of very decided ability. The California Quartette is one of the best we ever heard. Their voices are excellent and combine so perfectly that their songs were melody itself. The clog dancers, the inimitable stump speech by Arlington, and in fact, every thing attempted was done in a manner so pleasing and side-splitting, as to win for them such opinions as will tell when they next appear here.

MISS FLORENCE MITCHELL.—A fair maiden, notwithstanding the rain came down in torrents, greeted this lovely young lady at the Opera House on Tuesday night, where she appeared for the first time in her select readings and recitations. In appearance Miss Mitchell is tall and graceful, with a beautifully expressive face, and is possessed of a certain girlish shyness, which renders her stage presence all the more attractive. Her voice is soft and sweet, yet capable of any emotion, as shown in her excellent rendition of the difficult mania "Scene in Act IV," of "The Humorous Sketch of William Waterbury," and the ever popular piece, "The Sheriff Shall Not Ring the Bell." The audience, which was an educated and critical one, was in entire sympathy with her through out, and manifested its appreciation of her efforts with applause, which was as genuine as the merits which called it forth. With youth and beauty to assist her and a praiseworthy determination to succeed, Miss Mitchell is destined to take rank with the most noted readers of the day, to which certain accomplishment her friends here will look with confidence and pride. We hope it may suit her to visit us again, when the winds and rains do not seem to combine against her. A cordial reception will always await her.

At Harroburg Court last Monday cattle brought from 2 to 3 cents. Good work mules sold at $125 to $175.

One of Mr. A. C. Robinson's cows dropped a lamb the other day that weighed nineteen pounds. It lived only a week.

The severe weather has been very fatal to lambs all the State, and the Commissioner of Agriculture says they will be scarce and high this season.

The Sheriff sold 40 acres of land in Millersville, the property of James Bruce, colored, for $200, and 60 acres of Knob land for $30; Alex Bruce, colored, was the purchaser.

At the sale of Alfred Higgins in Fayette, sheep sold in lots of from 5 to 10 at $1 to $8.50 per head; yearling steers, $21 to $29; milk cows sold at $20 to $38; horses brought from $20 to $100.

PARIS CATTLE.—About 200 cattle on sale and the market dull, nothing good being offered. Prices $3 to $3.75 per hundred. One lot of unbroken mules brought $907.25. Common horses $10 to $105.

Sam Damon, James Young and others caught 3,850 fish out of Green river last Saturday by placing seines at the mouth of a slough into which fresh water flowed. The biggest catch ever made in Green river. (Columbia Spectator.)

At the sale of J. R. Morey in Shelby, mules sold at $150, $158, $154 and $92. One bay gelding sold at $150, one bay horse at $80, one sorrel horse at $85. Cattle—$43.90, $45 and $40; 6 yearling steers at $27.50 to $40; 4 calves at $18 each; hogs, 3c. per pound.

Hamilton & Co., of Clark, bought of Dr. T. R. Montgomery, of this county, 4 head of thoroughbred bull yearlings, 1 do. of S. H. Hargnum, 6 do. of John S. Owsley, 3 do. of R. B. & E. P. Woods, 1 do. of T. Reid, and 8 do. of H. Moran, at an average of $53 per head.

Wm. Tarr has bought of Jacob Motch, his farm of 118 acres, at $60 per acre. This makes Mr. Tarr the possessor of 3,212 acres of Blue Grass land in one body, besides he is one of a stock company who owns 150,000 acres of mineral lands in Eastern Kentucky.

COUNTY COURT.—A steady rain fell the whole day, and of a consequence there was not the usual large crowd in town and but little business was transacted. The auctioneers report as follows: Capt. H. T. Buehler—About 75 cattle on the market of common grade, selling at 3 to 4 cents, an average of 3 cents per pound.

Adm. Tarr has bought of Jacob Motch, his farm of 118 acres, at $60 per acre. This makes Mr. Tarr the possessor of 3,212 acres of Blue Grass land in one body, besides he is one of a stock company who owns 150,000 acres of mineral lands in Eastern Kentucky.
